The case dragged along, and for a whole year the Supreme Court was nominally running the House of All Nations.

Mrs. Charles got a judgment and the house was soid a month ago by the Sheriff, bringing $23,300, and leaving about $4,000 still due from Carrie Baker. Then Mrs. Charles got an attachment on the furniture, and Deputy Sheriff Heimberger was to have soid it at auction to-day.

Scores of painted women, of the bleached-blonde, beliadona-eyed kind, and men of sporting appearance visited the house in anticipation of the sale, but old Heilly, the Sheriff's man, in charge, disappointed them all with the news that it had been postponed.

A scheme is on foot to hold a big marine exhibition at the Madison Square Garden. There would be a huge tank, magnificently lluminated, in which professional swimmers would give afternoon and evening entertainments, exhibits from the principal ship builders and hosts of aquatic features. The scheme has been pretty well developed, but that it will ever be executed remains to be seen. The expenses of such an exhibition would be $25,000.

Business called him immediately to Washington, and when he got there he suddenly remembered that he had not returned the valuable autograph-book; neither had he brought it with him to Washington. Where was it? He received a communication from Mrs. Kendal asking him if he had obtained Mr. Booth's signature. Husted was in despair. He took the next train back to New York, and after cudgeiling his brain, remembered the little restaurant. He flew there, saw the man at the desk, who had only come on that day—of course—and didn't know anything about any packages. Husted insisted upon a thorough rummage, and after a good half hour the autograph book was discovered. Mrs. Kendal now has it. and asked him to take it to the Players' Club

Young Salvini flooded the city resterday with elaborate notices testifying to his own wonderful ability. They were sent from St. Louis. Critics, dramatic agents and managers received these notices, which were extremely voluminous and remarkably uninteresting. The sunny thing about it all is that every one who received an envelope had to pay two cents for it, as Salvini, with the eccentricity of genius, had omitted to place sufficient stamps on the missive. Presumably he thought that people would be so overjoyed to get it that they wouldn't mind his neglect.

The arm did not crack or drop off Buck lined the ball about the field for a few minutes in old-time form and then retired. To-day he may play a whole inning. By the time the season opens Powers expects to have the New York's captain in shape to play full games.

Most of the pitchers were given a change esterday. Rusie was swifter than usual and Silver King was in good form. Taylor, Coughlin and Sullivan also showed up very well. "Shorty" Fuller surprised a great by his activity at short. Lyons at third and Bassett at second did good work. considerable success. The boys all seemed will play with the Old Dominion team to-day,

The Philadelphia and Washington teams played at Charleston, B. C., resterday. The Quakers won by a score of 7 to 5.

President Byrne, of the Brokiya team, having considered the question thoroughly, has come to the conclusion that Ward had better keep the Bridgerooms in the South until the season opens. In talking about the matter the little President said: "I have sent Ward word to remain South, as the weather is so uncertain here just now, We open the season at Baltimore, and the team might as well practise in Atlanta or some other Southern city as here."

works are at the foot of East One Hundred and Fifteenth street, has applied to the Pire Department for a permit allowing them to store 200,000 gallons of naphtha in the big double tank which stands in the yard adjoin ing the gas-house. The Company has been storing its naphthi in this tank without a permit ever since it began operations in 1888.

When the Fire Department objected it was vided the construction of its tank fulfilled certain requirements. Recently, however, the Company has come under a new management, which decided that it would be a good thing to have a per-buildings. One of the allegations in the completet t that the houses owned by Lathers are endangered by the fact that this large quantity of naphths is stored near them, and that it is so stored without a permit. Inspector Seery, of the Bureau of Combus tibles, has been ordered by the Fire Commis pany's tank, and report in writing within two weeks as to its condition, and whether it is safe or dangerous to adjoining property.

Mr. Lathers, through his attorney, has protested against the granting of the permit found to be constructed in accordance with the requirements of the statute, as contained in section 457 of the Consolidation act, a permit will be unnecessary. The Company can continue to store its naphtha there without any permit or deense whatever. People living in the neighborhood of the gas-house are alarmed for fear that an explo-sion may some time occur which will how the adjoining tenement-houses to atoms. A perition is being circulated protesting against the granting of the permit. MURDER TRIAL CALENDAR.
